The Daily Press.

HONGKONG, NOVEMBER 29, 1865.

OUR advices per Aden from the North contain a sufficient budget of news to enable us to collate the items in the shape of an article.

We have have not yet quite fathomed the cause of the detention of the Duplaix. It appears that she left Yokohama on the 16th instant, but in consequence of a dense fog she returned to port and did not finally sail until the next day, the 17th. In making the Yangtsze she had again thick weather and had to anchor near the light ship, thereby allowing the Granada with the English mails, to reach that port before her.

The Ying-tze-foi had reached Shanghai before the Aden's despatch, having left Tientsin on the 17th, Taku on the 19th, and Chefoo on the 20th instant, respectively. H. M. S. Barrossa had arrived at the mouth of the Peiho with Sir Rutherford Alcock on board. His Excellency and suite were transferred outside the bar to H. M despatch steamer Manila, and encountered some adventures on their way to Tientsin which could have afforded anything but pleasure. In the first place, the boat in which the treasure for the legation was being transhipped, capsized alongside the Barrossa, and the whole, amounting to some $19,000 was lost. In the next place, the Manila, on her passage up the Peiho, grounded on a mud bank about eighteen miles from Tientsin, and at date of last advices was hard and fast. The gun boat Hardy was in attendance and would probably take Sir Rutherford and suite on to Tientsin.

There is a little confusion regarding the advices from Hiogo. It would appear that orders had been sent from home to equip the late expedition and to send it to Hiogo, there to demand the opening of that port on terms of the treaty and of the subsequent arrangement made, whereby the time for the opening had been deferred. The idea was to make a demonstration of force without using it. The expedition has undoubtedly failed, and H. M. Ship Argus was dispatched from Hiogo to Shanghai with advices to the Home Government containing the intelligence of the result. The belief in the fleet was that the ships forming the expedition would return to Yokohama, and there await instructions from England.

Tseng-kwo-fan has come to the front again and is showing his anti-foreign teeth pretty plainly. He is determined to sever all celestial connexions with Foreigners, and to be entirely independent of them. We are assured that it has been decided to do away with the foreign element in the Maritime Customs at the end of the current Chinese year. Mr. Hart had just returned to Shanghai from Peking just before the Aden left with these instructions, which one informant tells us are well known at Shanghai.

Both the pro-foreign and anti-foreign parties appear to be represented in the Peking Cabinet, and it will be seen from an extract reproduced from the Herald's Market Report, that Tseng kwo-fan, the leader of the latter, has sufficient potency to suspend Imperial nominations.

Tseng is making vast progress. He has ordered the Soochow arsenal to be removed to Nanking, where it is to be created on a site at foot of the ruins of the Porcelain Tower. At the former machine shop of Messrs. Thos. Hunt & Co. which the Mandarins purchased and now call the Kiangnan arsenal, rifles are being manufactured of a serviceable description. Percussion caps and Lucifer matches have been for a long time turned out of the Soochow arsenal.

The Yokohama cow-hiding case is a very simple affair, which the Editor of the Japan Times should have saved us the trouble of summarising. Gustave Glackmeyer, a United States citizen, was clerk at a linen and woollen drapery store, kept by Messrs. McKechnie & Co., who are British subjects. Mr. McKechnie suspected Gustave of embezzlement, and having him carefully watched, his suspicions were fully realised and confirmed. Gustave had a homestead of his own which like his nationality was rather a peculiar one, for it was presided over and guarded by a Chinese female, and his habit was to send her goods out of his master's shop, wherewith to decorate her celestial person. Mr. McKechnie obtaining most incontestible proofs of this pernicious habit, unwittingly evoked the services of the Municipal Police, who took Glackmeyer into custody and conveyed him to the Gaol at the British Consulate, which it appears is also the Municipal Gaol. The Jailer however, had his doubts about the legality of the step and immediately consulted the Vice-Consul, who at once set the adopted American citizen free.

Gustave instantly repaired to the U. S. Consul, and so wrought upon that pious man's national feelings as to induce Colonel Fisher to take up his case with the utmost warmth and zeal. The Colonel took it all upon himself—he made himself not only sponsor for his protégé, but both plaintiff and advocate, commencing an action in the British Consular Court in propria personæ for defamation and false imprisonment, laying the damages at five hundred dollars. The British Consul suggested that as Mr. McKechnie had made a mistake in applying to the Municipal Police and had subsequently commenced proceedings against Glackmeyer in the U. S. Consulate Court, it would be better to wait until the issue had been there decided, because on the guilt or innocence of Gustave would the measure of damages depend. This suggestion Colonel Fisher strongly objected to—he said that he had laid his plaint first by one hour and a half, and that therefore his case should be tried first. The British Consul waived the point and tried the case. Mr. McKechnie distinctly proved numerous cases of embezzlement against Gustave, and declared that he applied to the Municipal Police entirely through ignorance. The Consul consequently dismissed the case and ordered the plaintiff to pay the costs.

This most righteous decision greatly disturbed the equanimity of the pious Colonel, who, game to the last, instituted an appeal to Sir Edmund Hornby on behalf of his client. What has become of the case in the U. S. Consulate against Gustave, does not appear, but of course, in the frame of mind in which Colonel Fisher has worked himself into on the subject, it would be mere folly to proceed.

Gustave, finding himself under such potent protection, took a strange mode to vindicate his character. The Japan Times had given him deep offence by reporting the above case, and that journal was selected for his vengeance. We leave our contemporary to tell his own story.

"On Monday afternoon at about three o'clock as Mr. Blakeney was passing through the street at the back of the club, towards his office, he was overtaken by an individual who immediately attacked him from behind, striking him a heavy blow across the ear and side of the face with a stiff riding-whip. On turning round to see the source of attack, he was met by another cut across the eyes, and would have been most severely injured but for the yielding of his spectacles, which, however, cut the bridge of his nose severely. Mr. Blakeney had only a small umbrella in his hand, with which, being an excellent master of fence, he warded off many more blows that were aimed at him. He was taken entirely by surprise, but had the good sense, when once he found he could defend himself, not to return the blows of his assailant. It turned out that the attack was made by Mr. Glackmeyer, whose indignation at being mentioned unfavorably in the columns of the Japan Times thus found vent."

"A plaint has, of course, been laid before the American Consul, but—why—we cannot possibly imagine, this young ruffian is still permitted to be at large without bail, until the trial which has been fixed for a day 5 days after the offence was committed."

This presents a sad reflection on U. S. Consular Justice. Confound it—it is explosive and dangerous, for once ruffle its nationality and it becomes like a porcupine, or a hedge-hog.

THE public flogging of criminals which usually follows the close of the sessions at the Supreme Court, took place, on Monday afternoon at the whipping post in Queen's Road.

The criminals, fifteen in number, were marched down from the gaol under a strong escort, and the flogging was administered by four powerful fellows, who exhibited quite sufficient dexterity in the use of the whip, as to justify their appointment to the position which they hold.

The Colonial Surgeon was in attendance in order to prevent the infliction of a greater punishment than the physical powers of the several criminals would bear. Two or three were in fact released before the assigned number of stripes had been received.

On their way down the culprits seemed to meet with no sympathy from their own countrymen, and the houses in the immediate neighbourhood of the whipping post were crowded at every balcony and window with spectators both male and female (several Portuguese amongst the latter) who seemed to consider the whole thing as quite an entertainment.

To witness a string of wretches writhing and howling under the awful torture of the lash, and to count the "thuds" that are resounding off the bare flesh of a fellow-being, is not one would think, a very æsthetical enjoyment; but the crowd composed of high government officials, justices, barristers, naval and military officers, bankers, merchants, &c., &c., that took up the space immediately in front of the post of dishonour on this occasion would seem to indicate the contrary. Indeed if we were not of opinion that the laudable object of public flogging is, intended by its very repulsiveness to strike terror into the hearts of other malefactors, we should advocate a removal of the post to somewhere opposite the Supreme Court house, in order to make it more convenient for the gentry who go so much out of their way at present to "assist" at this salutary and necessary public duty.

If the whipping were carried out on an elevated scaffold so as to be within view of the crowd of Tai-ping-shanites who at present cannot see anything, and a large written placard were posted up with each delinquent, showing in Chinese characters who he is, and the nature of his offence, we think the desired effect would be much more readily attained, than by excluding the mob from the benefit they might derive, for the pleasure (?) which the front rank, as at present constituted, can only receive from witnessing such an exhibition.

Obliteration of Postage Stamps.

To the Editor of the "Daily Press."

HONGKONG, 28th November, 1865.

DEAR SIR,—Many months ago the Postmaster General refused consent to the adoption of such a suggestion as you make in to-day's paper.

I am your truly,

A VICTIM.

News from the North.

Shanghai.

From the North China Overland Herald.

Two significant despatches have lately been addressed to the foreign Consuls by the Chinese authorities. The first was from Ying Taotai, requesting that for the future all criminals who infest the present system are sentenced by the Mixed Court to work in the chain-gang, to sent into the city for punishment in accordance with Chinese custom. We presume the fees of the Boien's jailer are falling off, but we should be sorry to think that the incorruptible Chief Magistrate himself in any way feels the loss of the pecuniary considerations wrung from prisoners confined in his yamen. From some cause or another, however, the native magistrates are anxious to see the chain-gang done away with, and the most obvious reason which suggests itself to us is the diminution in the expenses which it is notorious are derived by all Chinese jailors from the exercise of their functions. But besides this the jealousy with which the encroachments of foreigners prompts them to resent the share which an English or American magistrate has in sentencing thieves and others to public punishment. The Chinese wish, perhaps naturally, to continue in the groove which they have followed for hundreds of years, and even in the matter of the more effectual punishment of culprits they resent a change. To them there is no such word as "improvement." To place is assumed by "innovation," and it is this bias in their minds that renders them what they are, a spectacle of national weakness and imbecility. This instance which we have just brought forward is, however, merely one example out of hundreds which might be adduced, and adds but one to the hundreds already brought forward by writers on China. We are glad to see that in this particular instance the foreign authorities held out, and insisted on continuing a mode of punishment which, from the disgust wherewith the natives regard it, will in all probability prove most effective in diminishing crime in the settlement. The other dispatch to which we allude was addressed by the Hoien to the Consuls, under orders from the Tsung-li yamen transmitted through the Governor-general and Fantai. It is to the effect that inasmuch as the Imperial Government is about to construct a map of the provinces of Kiangsu, Kiangsi and Anhuei, exact measurements of the foreign settlement will be necessary, and the Consuls are therefore requested as a matter of courtesy to give the officers appointed for the purpose every facility for the completion of their task. The Consuls have of course complied with this request, but as the proposed map is to be drawn on a scale of two inches to fifty li, we cannot imagine the use of accurate measurements of the English settlement which would not, on such a map as is proposed, take up a space of more than one seventieth of a square inch. These extraordinary scientific abortions which the Chinese facetiously call maps, and which are purchased by foreigners as curios simply on account of the ludicrous ignorance they display, cannot be depended upon for correctness even within a hundred miles or so, and we have no reason to believe that the map of the two Kiang which is now about to be undertaken will be based on any scientific principle, or has any chance of being superior to the general class of native charts. The request to measure the settlement was, therefore, either dictated by an affectation of exactitude, or by some ulterior motive which it was thought as well to keep in the back-ground. The latter supposition appears to us to be the more probable. It is hard to say whether, when the number of men in the English settlement to-day is precisely known, it may not be compared with the number of mow contained within the same nominal limits thirteen years ago. The land reclaimed from the river, the "alluvial deposit" which for ages the natives have looked on as so much odoriferous "Shanghai mud," has since the decision in the Supreme Court relative to the Reynolds case, lost its overpowering bouquet and its dull, unattractive exterior. It has acquired a fresh aroma and the lustre of cycee seems to beam from it. What a change of paying off the indemnity at a blow—putting a stop to the foreign inspectorate of Customs and returning to anti-Christian prejudices and practices! Could it be possible to coin those festering heaps of organic remains which poison the air on the hund into yellow gold, and to make up a formidable account of land reclaimed and bulls upon, what a glorious day for Chinese imbecility would dawn on the Celestial empire! To us it seems more than probable that the design of the Chinese in requesting permission to measure the settlements is to form an estimate of the increase in the amount of land under the jurisdiction of the Municipal Council, for the plea of wanting correct statistics for the proposed map is too evidently false. What the ultimate design may be we cannot say positively, but each of our readers will be able to form a tolerably reasonable conjecture.

From the "Shanghai Recorder."

During the fortnight no political events of importance have occurred, if we except the appointment of Li-Fatai to take the post of commander in chief against the Nianfei Rebels in Hanan, and one or two other changes of minor consequence among the Chinese official. No little sensation has been caused in Shanghai by a sentence of one month's imprisonment with hard labor which was passed upon Capt. Bennet of the Opium ship Wellington, for the offence of flogging Chinese on suspicion of their having stolen opium. Two petitions have been presented to the Chief Judge asking him to reverse the sentence. To the first a courteous but firm reply was given in the negative, in which we understand his Lordship explained that he would be exceeding his powers in reversing the sentence and that he scarcely thought the request was one which should have been made to him. We have not yet heard whether any reply has been received to the second petition. Though doubtless the sympathy on the part of the public was not unnatural inasmuch as it is well known that opium Captains have been in the habit of taking the law into their own hands, on account of the difficulty of obtaining redress from the Chinese authorities in cases where natives have been convicted of robbery, it can scarcely be held that the sentence passed was more severe than the circumstances warranted as there was no proof that the men had committed the robbery for which they were flogged upon suspicion.

A more serious charge was brought against the chief officer of the Wellington, resulting in an inquest being held at the Municipal Police Station upon the body of a Chinaman, whose death was alleged to have been caused by ill treatment and kicking. Mr. Lewis of the American Consulated was in attendance; and as no evidence of violence was to be found upon the body he pointed out that a post mortem examination would be necessary; but the Chinese Magistrate objecting to such a proceeding the investigation had to be abandoned.

Mr. Grant's Trans-Mongolian Telegraphic Scheme is already so far advanced as to give reason to believe that we may expect to receive telegrams by the first steamer from Tientsin after the breaking up of the ice. Mr. Grant, left per Corea, Str. for Taku, whence he will proceed to Kiatcha with the purpose of forming the line of courriers between that place and Tientsin.

The Municipal Council held their monthly meeting on the 10th inst., and the report which they published was one of the most valuable which has been made by that body. It opens up several very important questions with reference to the local government of Shanghai. Among them we have to notice the system of making Chinese criminals perform hard labour in the settlement; a plan which will have the double advantage of turning this work to some account, and will secure that the Chinese prisoners so employed, undergo the sentence passed upon them.

The Chinese authorities raised some objection to this plan; but by judicious management this has been overruled.

A very important case in its bearing upon the Municipal government of Shanghai was tried at the Supreme Court before Sir Edmund Hornby, on the 15th inst. This was a claim by the Council for Land Tax due from the estate of the late G. and S. Wile and the decision is given in favor of the Council in such a manner as to establish their legal status and power to enforce payment of taxes passed at the Land Renter's Meetings. This will be of great importance to the well working of Municipal matters in Shanghai and from the means of doing away with much unnecessary trouble in collection of the taxes.

The first trial for murder at H.B.M. Supreme Court took place on the 17th inst. when MAHOMET, a Malay, was convicted of the murder of his wife by stabbing her with a knife; but it appearing from the evidence that he had received great provocation, the jury recommended the prisoner to mercy.

A Naval Court was held at H.B.M.'s Consulate on the 13th inst. to enquire into the circumstances attending the loss of the British Schooner "Quaice," in the Gulf of Pecheli, on the 10th ulto. The Court found that the loss was occasioned by the Master's mistaking his position through his being unabled to obtain accurate observations at noon on the day previous. The master was censured for continuing his course instead of heaving to, close proximity to the land, when his position was uncertain.

Isaac Williams, Samuel Wetherton and Theodore Brown were sentenced by the United States Consular Court on the 12th inst. to three years' imprisonment for committing a robbery with violence at the Customs Barrier at Chi-Paoo. These British subjects who were also concerned in the same robbery were sentenced by H. B. M. Supreme Court on the 21st October last to 3 years penal servitude. It is to be hoped that these justly severe sentences will have the effect of diminishing the number of crimes of this description.

Mansfield, the British subject who was detained for some time at Kang-chow-foo, will be tried on the 25th inst., before the Supreme Court, upon a charge of having been found in arms against H.B.M. the Emperor of China with others his revolted subjects.

Commercial.

There has been an improved tone in almost all the leading markets during the past fortnight. In Imports the news from home has caused much excitement; and an advance in all descriptions of Cotton-Goods has been established. The Stocks however, are extremely low and prices must therefore be looked upon with caution. In TEA there has been a large business done, 48 chops having been settled since the departure of the Mail at fully Tls. 3 advance. In SILK we have to note an advance of Tls. 10 @ Tls. 15 on better description of Sorts of Canton and Tavoan. Settlements are estimated at about 900 Bales. Exchange which, previous to the departure of last Mail had been steadily at 6/ 1/4 for the space of a fortnight, has taken an upward turn consequent upon the heavy settlements of Teas. The telegram of 19th Aug. announcing a rise in the rate of Interest to 7%, simultaneously with an advance in the leading produce markets has been the subject of much comment. Some circumstance of importance, not announced by the telegram, would appear to have caused the enhanced rate, such as increased export of bullion to India for purchase of Cotton; a notable falling off in the harvest; or possibly a speculative tone in the produce markets consequent upon their favorable appearance.—Recorder.

Nanking.

The provincial Gazette announced a few days ago some important changes in the government of the two Kiang. Li Hung-chang (Li Fu-tai), who has for several months acted as Governor-general was to take the field against the Nien-fei in Honan. Wu Tang was to have succeeded him at Nanking, while Acting-Salt-Commissioner Ting (Ting Taotai) became Acting Fotai in the place of Liu, who returned to his position as Fotai. Within a week, however, these promotions and exchanges were reversed by order of Tseng Kuo-fan, who seems to have disapproved of the sudden rise of so many junior mandarins.—Herald.

Hankow.

A correspondent informs us that on the night of the 19th instant a severe gale occurred at that port which did considerable damage. On the night of the 18th instant Stevens, one of the men implicated in the murder of Macdonald, escaped from prison and had not been heard of up to the 19th. A reward of Tls. 100 was offered for his apprehension. We have received a copy of the First Annual Report of the Hankow Medical Mission Hospital, under the charge of Mr. F. Porter Smith, M.D. The Society under which Dr. Smith works is the Wesleyan Mission, and the Hospital has now been open for about eighteen months. The Report gives the result of one year's practice amongst the natives, viz., from July 1st 1864 to June 30th 1865. The number attended amounted to 11,704, of whom 10,032 were male out-patients, 2,700 female out-patients, 30 male in-patients, and 2 female in-patients, besides a large number of children. The hospital is open on three days in each week, and therefore on each day there must have been an average attendance of at least one hundred and twenty. Every grade of Chinese society has been represented amongst the patients, even the Heimtai of the province having requested Dr. Smith and on behalf of his daughter. By thus pushing forward Medical Missions in the country the home Societies are doing a considerable good, and we therefore wish all success to Dr. Smith and the other laborers in the same field who have devoted themselves to the physical as well as religious regeneration of the myriads of China.—Told.

Japan.

Events of the Fortnight, from the Japan Times.

The important event which we announced as imminent in the last issue of the OVERLAND MAIL—the departure of the combined squadron for Osaka, took place on the last inst. We miss from our list of men-of-war in Harbour H. B. M's Strs. Princess Royal, Argus, Leopard, Pelorus, Perseus, Bustard, and Bouncer—H. I. M's Strs. La Guerriere, Duplaix and Kien Chan, and H. N. M's Tenedos. They all went out under steam, between 6 and 10 A.M. on the said morning, having on board the Ministers of England, France, Holland, and America. The objects of this expedition are pretty well know to the public here, and better, probably, to our home readers. We trust that the effect of this demonstration will be a peaceful solution of existing difficulties and prevent the recurrence, a partial fulfilment on the part of the Japanese Government of engagements often solemnly made, so often faithlessly [illegible]. We sympathize completely with he cabinet of the Tycoon in their difficult position. There is no easy task—to satisfy the demand of the strangers who insist on breaking down the barriers which have hitherto kept the Japanese an isolated and happy, though barbarous and uncivilized people—and at the same time to persuade the Mikado and the anti-foreign party that every effort is being made to turn out the intrusive Westerns, who insist on improving the condition of Japan and upsetting ancient law and custom, in spite of all opposition. We trust that no collision will take place, but wait news from the fleet with much anxiety. That we have right, as well as might, on our side we are firmly convinced; that this will be recognised by the obstinate oligarchy of Japan we can only hope—we can hardly expect.

Some doubts have been expressed, since we Intimation.

O! sound the Lyre, the Tam-Tam and the Gong!
Awake, Ye Slumbering Denizens of Hong Kong!
Professor Wheeler, Artist of renown
From New York, Boston, San Francisco Town
And other places famed in Song and Science
Has now arrived, with every new appliance,
Combined with those employed time hallowed.
Prepared to exercise the Art Tonsorial.
Others there are in town who ply the Shears,
But send their trusting Victims forth in tears
With Mutilated locks their friends all stare—
And ask:—"Why, who the Devil cut your hair?"
Why follow unskilled, and benighted Chinese
Your Head to butcher, and your Purse to "squeeze?"
Upon this Isle there is not a Hair Dresser,
Can justly claim the title of Professor—
Save Wheeler, who has spent his days in toil,
In Obscure Research—burnt the Midnight Oil,
And now by acclamation near and far
Of other Artists justly takes the Pas.
Hasten, Ye Unkempt, to his gay Salon,
Frequented by the Elite and Ton!
Dread no rebuff!—Noblesse or Parvenu,
Impartially he'll "Cut" "Shave," or Shampoo,
With Style Despatch and Neatness, at a Rate
It actually seems ridiculous to state:
Being no more—O Ye Illustrious Dead!—
Really,—No more than Fifty Cents A Head!
Come to the Hotel Oriental! there.
Ready to Shave or Dye, or Cut your Hair,—
Of blessings great benorobently the Dealer,—
From Morn till Night, you'll find
PROFESSOR WHEELER.

A. CARD.
PROFESSOR WHEELER, would respectfully attract the attention of the Hongkong Public to the importance of having the Hair Cut and Dressed in an Artistic manner and style, Appropriate to the Individual in the cut of the Hair; there can be no fixed or prevailing fashion without destroying almost universally the harmony of the tout ensemble. Indeed as diverse as is the contour of the human head and facial outline, just so peculiar should be the trim and arrangement of the Hair. This fact is noted upon by only those Hair-Cutters who possess an inherent judgment in matters of taste, cultivated and improved by incessant study and application. Of this rare class, Professor WHEELER, humbly claims to be one, and the Only One in this Colony, and he modestly but confidently invites all who may be distrustful of his ability to give him at least a trial before pronouncing an adverse opinion. He may be found at all hours of the day in his Apartments adjoining the Private Entrance of the Oriental Hotel.

IT is most respectfully intimated to Parents and Guardians, that the New Schools lately erected in Pottinger Street corner of Wellington Street, in a style suitable to the wants of the climate, and managed with a view of meeting the peculiar want of this Commercial Colony, are now in full operation.
The system of tuition adopted in these Schools, purely Commercial, Arithmetic, Book-keeping, Geometry, Geography, History, Grammar, Composition, Foreign Languages, Music, and Drawing, are taught by proficient resident Masters.
No objection is made to the admission of any Pupil on the score of religion nor will the religious feelings of any pupil be tampered with.
A suite of large Airy Rooms, has been opened in the same Schools for the reception of Boarder Pupils. To Boys leaving home for the first time the charge will be made as easy as can be by the kindness which shall be shown them and by the exclusion of everything materially coercive.
Further particulars may be known by applying to the Principal J. BENGASSI, who earnestly desires that communications be made before any boarder pupil is sent to the Schools.
